2012 Winter Classes

Our Italian plans unveiled

February 10th , 2012

Join us as we launch our tour of Italy and la Dolce Vita:

a visual and culinary arts adventure

7:00 pm at our Studio, 11211 1st Ave, 3rd floor

This trip of a lifetime begins in Rome, before then traveling to the birthplace of the Renaissance. Our centrally-located Florence apartments will be ideal for visiting the many galleries and historic sites, as well as providing artistic and culinary inspiration. Imagine painting by the Arno in the morning, enjoying a gelato after lunch, with a visit to the Uffizi Gallery as a second dessert. Then a late afternoon siesta to recharge your energy for exploring the tastes of Italy by night!

From Florence, our adventure takes us to our classical Italian villa in the beautiful Tuscan countryside. Here we will be able to indulge ourselves in some great locations for plein air painting, from our picturesque villa to some of the charming towns surrounding our private country oasis. Experience the charm, colour, and flavour of Italy as well as "la dolce far niente" - "the sweet idleness" that makes a trip to Italy complete.,

If this trip sounds irresistible and you want to find out more about it, make sure to RSVP for our February information night by calling 604-448-1860, or emailing mark@phoenixcoastalart.com

Week Four: Print making, Stencils and mixed media

Modern Art Workshop with Mark Glavina

February 27 - April 30
Mondays, 7 pm - 9 pm
10 weeks $175.00

This long-standing tradition at Phoenix Art continues its exploration of modern art. Join us this term as we look deep into the lives and work of Post Impressionist artists like Cezanne, Van Gogh, Gauguin, Renoir, and Toulouse-Lautrec, looking especially at how these artists used and applied colour. In this class we will study these works, and with the support of the instructor students will create their own Post Impressionist paintings.

Sculptural Anatomy with Nick Voltchok

*February 4 - March 24
Saturdays, 12:30 - 3:30 pm
8 Weeks $185
Supplies $35*

Join us for this unique study of human anatomy for the artist. Under the guidance of professional sculptor Nick Voltchok, students will sculpt their own anatomical skeleton. The course covers proportions and gives a comprehensive look at all bone and muscle structures of the human body. The focus of this class is on three dimensional modeling and will provide an effective basis for learning and memorizing human anatomy. All levels of painters, sculptors and artists are welcome to join us. Students will be required to have their own sculpting tools. Stands and plasticine will be provided in class for $35.00

Friday Morning Painting Studio with Annie Tsai

*January 27 - March 30
Fridays, 10 am - 12:30 pm
10 weeks $185.00*

This painting class is designed for beginner and intermediate painters working in Oils, Acrylics, or Watercolours. Annie Tsai, one of the most popular instructors at the workshop, will guide and inspire you while teaching painting techniques in the medium of your choice. Annie's in-class demonstrations are a highlight for all students, regardless of their medium or painting experience. Students will be required to supply their own painting materials and be prepared to work on the subject matter of their choice for the first class. If you are just getting started, please have a look at our store bog where you will find lists of beginner supplies for various mediums.

Youth Master Class With Mark Glavina

*January 26 - March 29th
(No classes during Spring Break)
Mondays, 4 pm - 6 pm
10 weeks $165.00*

Students will be challenged to develop drawing skills, as well as learn visual problem solving and be encouraged to pursue their own interests. The instruction students receive will be focused on individual needs, ensuring all students push themselves toward a greater confidence and understanding of visual communications. Students will be exposed to various painting techniques, mediums, and methods of mark making. This class is perfect for students to work on portfolio development at the same time as they acquire practical skills. Students are required to have their own supplies; please see our store blog for supply lists.

2012 Phoenix Workshops

Free Demos and All New Saturday Morning Workshops

Saturday workshops: Our four week mini courses all start with a free demonstration the first Friday evening of each month, where instructors will demonstrate and discuss their choice of supplies and techniques. May Workshop Colour Workshop: Tribute to Colour Field Painting Mark Glavina

*Free Demo 7 pm - 9 pm
Friday, May 3
Colour Workshop continues Saturday May 4 - 24 (4 weeks) 9 am - 12pm
This colour workshop looks in-depth into the teaching of master instructor Joseph Albers and explores colour theories, psychology and perception of colour. This is guaranteed to be an eye-opener for all levels of artists as we focus this workshop on how to apply this knowledge to create better and more dynamic colour composition. Colour is the visual element of design most closely linked to human emotion; students will come away with a much better understanding of how to use colour to connect with the human condition.*
